Workshop on the Role of Non-verbal Communication In Interpersonal Relationships
By the Department of Business Communication and Foundation Course

The Department of Business Communication and Foundation Course conducted an informative and interactive workshop on 'The Role of Non-verbal Communication in Interpersonal Relationships' on 19th October 2017. The workshop was aimed at exploring the significance of non-verbal cues in enhancing communication effectiveness and building strong interpersonal connections. The aim of this workshop was to educate participants on various non-verbal cues and their impact on communication dynamics and to provide practical strategies for utilizing non-verbal communication effectively.

Ms. Tanvi Rao emphasized the significance of active listening skills and provided useful tips for interpreting non-verbal signals accurately. Participants were encouraged to practice their newfound knowledge through role-playing exercises, fostering an inclusive and participatory learning environment.

The workshop concluded with a question-and-answer session, allowing participants to seek further clarification on specific topics.
