Guest Lecture on Grooming
By the Department of Business Communication and Career Guidance Cell

The Department of Business Communication and Career Guidance Cell organized a highly informative and engaging guest lecture on "Grooming with Reference to Communication" on 5th October 2017 by TiTLi Early Childhood Training Institute. The lecture aimed to provide participants with valuable insights into the significance of grooming and its impact on effective communication.

Throughout the lecture, the speaker employed a variety of teaching methods, including visual aids, real-life examples, and interactive discussions. They elaborated on the importance of grooming in creating a positive first impression and establishing credibility in professional and personal settings. The lecture covered various aspects of grooming, including personal hygiene, appropriate attire, grooming habits, and body language, highlighting their impact on communication effectiveness.

The lecture concluded with a question-and-answer session, allowing participants to seek further clarification on specific grooming and communication-related concerns.
