

Report : Online Workshop on Fundamental Research

The Student's Research Cell and Leo Club of Malad Borivali Dalmia College organized an online workshop on Fundamental Research on 23rd October, 2021. The Chief Guest for the workshop was Dr. Akash Agarwal from Nagpur University and the Resource person for workshop was Prof. Nitin Pagi from K.G Joshi College of Arts and N.G Bedkar College of Commerce.

The workshop started with the host – Leo Anjali Gaud greeting everyone. Before starting any workshop we always pray to maa saraswati so we did the same this time. Felicitation of the Guest Dr. Aakash Agarwal and Resource Person Prof. Nitin Pagi was done by Leo club vice president Leo Shivam Joshi. Followed by the workshop presentation by Prof. Nitin Pagi where his research topic was “Audit of NSDC schemes towards youth employability in thane district – An empirical study”.

It was a very interactive session where even the students actively asked questions. In the last there was a review session by Chief guest Dr. Aakash Agarwal where he told us how much he loved the workshop and most importantly how nicely all the members of the leo club tem and pdlc team did the workshop so professionally. The workshop was ended by leo club member and pdlc students research cell coordinator Leo Daphne Thevar who gave vote of thanks to everyone.

No of participants: 25 students attended the workshop.
