

Report : Online workshop on Research Process and Research Writing

Leo Club of Malad Borivali Dalmia College and PDLC Students' Research Cell organized an online workshop on Research Process and Research Writing on 30th October, 2021. The Guest for the workshop was Dr. Bhavik Swadia and the Resource person for the workshop was Prof. Reshma Jaisinghani from Jai Hind College.

The workshop started with the host – vice president of Leo Club of Malad Borivli Dalmia Leo Shivam Joshi greeting everyone. Before starting any workshop we always pray to maa saraswati so we did the same this time. Next Leo Club convenor and the students research cell Chairperson Dr. Sunita Tidke gave introduction on the research cell workshop. Felicitation of the Guest Dr. Bhavik Swadia and Resource Person Prof. Reshma Jaisinghani was done by Leo Anjali Gaud. Followed by the workshop presentation by Prof. Reshma Jaisinghani where she talked about smart villages of India specifically Gujarat and Maharashtra. It was a very interactive session where even the students and other research scholars were actively asking questions and interacting with the resource person. Next we had a review session from the guest person Dr. Bhavik Swadia where he gave many good suggestions and tips to the students and the research scholars on how to write your research paper. The workshop was ended by leo club member and students of the research cell coordinator Leo Daphne Thevar who gave vote of thanks to everyone.

No of participants: 39

After the session feedback was collected by students, the session motivated many to engage in research projects.
